

Aviation Investigation Preliminary Report

Location:	Naples, FL	Accident Number:	ERA24LA330
Date & Time:	July 29, 2024, 12:10 Local	Registration:	N934PC
Aircraft:	RAYTHEON AIRCRAFT COMPANY A36	Injuries:	1 None
Flight Conducted Under:	Part 91: General aviation - Personal

On June 29, 2024, at 1200 Eastern Standard Time, a Raytheon Aircraft A36, N934PC, was substantially damaged during an emergency landing at Naples Municipal Airport (APF), Naples, Florida. The commercial pilot was not injured. The flight was conducted under Title 14 Code of Federal Regulations Part 91 as a personal flight.

According to the pilot, after a successful engine run-up, he proceeded to the active runway. He reported that everything was normal during the takeoff roll. However, during the initial climb and the retraction of the landing gear, the engine lost power. He decided to land straight ahead on the runway. The airplane veered off the right side of the departure end of the runway and came to rest in the grass.

A Federal Aviation Administration inspector who responded to the accident site reported damage to the fuselage and wing root.

The airplane was recovered for further examination.
